"I would like to elaborate on the differences I have been seeing from the players on my 2009 13's team who are Strike Zone members and those who are not. Although statistics don't tell the whole story, working out just 15 minutes of cage time 2 or 3 times a week results in 12.3 plate appearance between strikeouts: for members vs. 3.5 for non-members.

Being a member of the Strike Zone DOES make a difference!"
